

Zelie Eger, Violin

Zelie Eger has been playing the violin since the age of seven. She began lessons with Elizabeth Pile and has since studied privately with Dr. Leonardo Perez and Dr. Colleen Ferguson at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. Currently she is studying with Dr. Stanley Chepaitis, director emeritus of violin studies at IUP.

Zelie has been a member of the Johnstown Symphony Orchestra since 2016. From 2012-2018 she was a member of the Johnstown Symphony Youth Orchestra, serving as concertmaster from 2014-2018. She now serves in the JSYO as an alumni member. From 8th-11th grade she was first violinist of the JSYO's string quartet, performing at various events throughout the area. From 2009-2016 Zelie was a member of the JSO's children's chorus, Inclined to Sing.

Zelie teaches violin at the Greater Johnstown School of Music. There she hopes to encourage violinists of all ages and levels to learn and enjoy the beauty of making music.

When not playing the violin or teaching Zelie enjoys being outside horseback riding, gardening, reading, and travelling. Zelie resides in Hooversville, PA.
